IONISOS ACQUIRES STERIL MILANO IN ITALY, WITH THE SUPPORT OF ARDIAN

Civrieux-d’Azergues (Rhône-Alpes Auvergne) – 28 June 2019 – Ionisos, a leading European provider of cold sterilisation services, today announces the acquisition of Steril Milano, a specialist in sterilisation services.

Established in 2009 and based in Monza, Italy, Steril Milano is the Italian leading specialist in ethylene oxide sterilisation. Through this acquisition, Ionisos will enter the Italian market where medtech and packaging provide a strong client basis.

Christoph Herkens, CEO of Ionisos, said: “This acquisition is fully in line with our growth strategy and strengthens our European footprint by opening a new country. We will also expand our sterilisation services through the construction of a new facility close to Milano.”

Carlo Salvetti, founder and CEO of Steril Milano, said: “Within only 10 years Steril Milano has become the leading partner for ethylene oxide-based sterilisation services in the Italian market. As part of a multinational group we can further accelerate growth and offer even broader services to our clients in ethylene oxide, eBeam and x-ray.”

François Jerphagnon, Head of the Ardian Expansion team, adds: “This is the fifth acquisition performed by Ionisos since our entry in July 2016. We keep on consolidating the market in order to turn Ionisos into a European leader in cold sterilisation.”

STERIL MILANO

Created in 2009 and based in Monza in Italy, Steril Milano is the Italian leader in cold sterilisation services for third parties, with a strong know-how in ethylene oxide. The installed capacities, in Monza and in Reggiolo, allow the company to offer a diversified range of activities from sterilisation of medical devices to consulting services for sterile processes and products. The new site in Biassono will be operational from Jan 2020 onwards with eBeam, X-ray and ethylene oxide services and will be the major site of cold sterilisation in Italy and the only one offering three sterilisation technologies.

The services will be branded under Ionisos Italia (irradiation) and Sterylene Italia (ethylene oxide)
